Social and Personal

DRAPERY of yellow flowers and Southern smilax will cover the walls of the long drawing rooms and halls at "Crednal," the handsome old Carter home, in Loudoun county, this evening at 6 o'clock, when Miss Nina Dulaney Carter, daughter of Mrs. Richard Welby Carter, will become the bride of John Mackenzie Tabb, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Prosser Tabb, of Baltimore. The ceremony will take place in a wonderful old parlor banked with white and yellow blossoms and arched with many candles. An orchestra will play the wedding march, and for the reception following the ceremony, Mr. Burwell, rector of the Episcopal Church, will perform the ceremony in the presence of a distinguished company of guests that has gone to Middleburg to attend the wedding of John S. Moore, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Fairfax Harrison, of Washington. The bride is a lovely young woman, with a court train caught at intervals with sprays of orange blossoms. The bride is dressed in a gown of white and yellow, and her veil of illusion will fall from a small cap of lace finished with pearls and orange blossoms. She will carry a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley, and her only ornament will be a pearl pin. Richard Welby Carter, Jr., will give his sister away.

Miss Henry McComb Bangs, of New York, will be maid of honor and Miss Juliet Carter, a sister of the bride, will be maid of honor. Miss Fanny Scott Beverley, of "Blindfield," Essex county, and Miss Fanny Carter Scott, of Richmond, will be bridesmaids. They will all be gowned in yellow crepe meteor, draped in white chiffon.

with a border of pale pink roses on the bottom. The drapery of the bride's "frocks" is beaded in gold and embroidered about the bodice in pale pink blossoms. They will carry big bunches of yellow chrysanthemums. Gordon Nicodemus, of Baltimore, will act as Mr. Tabb's best man.

A big reception will follow the ceremony at "Crednal," and the lovely old place will be a veritable bower of beautiful flowers for the occasion. In the halls and dining room the same color scheme of yellow and white will prevail, and the reception will be one of the most brilliant affairs of the autumn season.

Mr. Tabb and his bride will go South on their honeymoon, and on their return to Virginia will make their home near Middleburg. Guests from a distance to attend the ceremony are Mr. and Mrs. John Prosser Tabb, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. William A. Stewart, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. John T. Taylor, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. George Clay, of Baltimore; Mr. and Mrs. John T. Luncheon for Miss Tabb.
Miss John W. Gordon was hostess at luncheon yesterday at the Country Club of Virginia, in honor of Miss Ethel Hall, one of the debutantes of the winter. Only a few of the debutantes were invited, and the table was set with yellow and white chrysanthemums.

Later in the afternoon the debutantes of the season were entertained at tea by Mrs. Lyons Pemberton, in honor of Miss Margaret Freeman, also a debutante this winter. Decorations were in pink flowers and pink shaded candles.

Home Wedding.
A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd E. Taylor, 321 Stuart Avenue, when their daughter, Miss Estelle Barton Hubbard, daughter of J. M. Hubbard, of Charles City county, was married to Delmar Davis, of Norfolk. The house was artistically decorated with trailing vines, palms and roses, and Miss Winifred Welch, of Chicago, played the wedding march. Rev. Allen Christian, of Norfolk, performed the ceremony, in the presence of only the immediate relatives and a few intimate friends of the bride and groom.

Miss H. Taylor was matron of honor and wore a gown of black chiffon over pale yellow messaline, trimmed in pearls. The bride entered the parlor with her maid of honor, Miss Lottie Lee Thorpe, and wore a traveling suit of blue cloth, with hat and gloves to match, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor wore a gown of white messaline. Mr. Magruder Davis was his brother's best man.

Dancing Classes Begin.
Another very attractive dancing class to begin this winter is that of Miss Nellie Morton and Miss Margaret Owen. The dances will begin this afternoon and will be from 5 to 7 o'clock, at Glinter Park Hall. The girls and boys of the younger set are very much interested in dancing classes and clubs, and in fact form the centre of their social life for every winter.

Of Interest Here.
Says the Baltimore Sun of Thursday evening:

'Kenimere,' their beautiful country place in Virginia, will be kept open all winter, and they will give a series of house parties. Kenneth Gilpin will spend most of the winter at 'Kenimere.'"

Meeting of Colonial Dames.
A meeting of the Virginia Society of Colonial Dames was held yesterday afternoon at the Woman's Club. Mrs. William Ruffin Cox presided.

The society decided to make a donation of $1,000 to the George Washington memorial fund, to be used by the university of that name.

It was determined to have painted a portrait of Dolly Madison, to hang in the White House, of which she was once the reigning spirit. There is now no portrait of her there.

In view of the coming convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the Dames decided to unite with the Woman's Club in tendering a reception to the visitors. Mrs. William Standard, Mrs. Christopher Tompkins and Mrs. Charles Ferrell form the committee for the Colonial Dames, and Mrs. William Cronshaw and Mrs. J. Allison Hodges from the club.

Mineral Point, Mo.—Mrs. Clara Cluff, of this place, says: "I had a pain in my left side and back, and suffered a great deal with womanly troubles."

"I would take pills that lasted two or three days, when it seemed like I was uneasy all the time, and didn't feel like doing anything."

"I couldn't sleep good at night. I felt as though I had just done a hard day's work."

"I had suffered for six years, and I can't tell you just how I did feel. I felt so bad. The doctors' treatment didn't seem to help, and I was so blue I was almost crazy!"

"I tried Cardui, and before I had taken two bottles I felt much better."

"I took twelve bottles in all."

"Now, though I haven't taken any for a good while, I still feel all right—better than I have for years."

"I would have been crazy if Cardui hadn't helped me."

Cardui will help you, just as it helped Mrs. Cluff.

GIVE EXPRESSION TO UNITARIANISM

Visitors From Washington Convention Address Audience at Jefferson.

Unitarianism, its doctrines and ideas, were given able and eloquent expression last evening at an extension meeting, held in the auditorium of the Jefferson Hotel, which was attended by the local adherents of the faith and a number of visitors from outside the city.

In addition to these there were present between forty and fifty delegates from the national Unitarian Convention, which has just concluded a four-day session in Washington, who came to Richmond for the extension meeting.

Rev. A. T. Bowser, of the First Unitarian Church of Richmond, presided over the meeting, and presented as the first speaker Dr. J. G. Thompson, of Boston. The speaker outlined in brief the peculiarly happy manner in which Unitarianism meets what, in his opinion, may be the demand of every highly intelligent reasoning being—a "theology which answers the needs of the entire man."

Aim of Scholarship.
"The aim of all science, of all philosophy," he said, "is to affirm contact with the reasonableness of the universe and the goodness of God. This is the acknowledged end of all human scholarship and hope. Considering now the history of human progress, we find always this process; the past offers us formulas and the present offers us formulas by an appeal to nature. The geographers taught that the world was flat; Columbus appealed to nature and found the curvature. Ancient chemistry taught that there were in the world only four elements; men have found eight; two, the old theory taught that every creature was created from the beginning, and that God made man in the Garden of Eden; evolution has proved their existence for countless ages."

"As in science, so in theology, Nature demands of man constantly a new statement of the truth. We need a new statement of religion. We must abandon the Deism which teaches us that the Father is a God of vengeance and wrath, that He keeps eternal watch over our sins as well as our virtues. It is impossible for us to believe that the same God who commands 'Love your enemies' will consign His own enemies to eternal torment."

Unitarianism, he told his hearers, is today the only faith which makes direct appeal to man's reasoning faculties, which declines to be tied down to dogmas formulated by primitive races, and which teaches that God needs no intermediary or interpreter to make Himself known to man.

Woman's Alliance.
He was followed by Miss Emma C. Low, of Brooklyn, president of the National Alliance of Unitarian Women, an organization which, she said, was founded twenty-one years ago and has to-day 384 subsidiary branches and 18,000 members. She explained the work of the alliance and the service it is performing for the church. Among other activities in which it engages is mission work in the South, at present confined chiefly to the States of North Carolina, Georgia and Florida.

The final address of the evening was delivered by Rev. Samuel M. Crothers, of Cambridge, Mass. "After concluding such an eminently successful convention at Washington," he told his audience, "we could hardly refrain from sending a few survivors to Virginia, especially since it was Virginia that gave Unitarianism its first great impetus in this country."

He traced the Unitarian movement from John Milton, the first great exponent of its principles, to John Priestly, its first professor. "This man John Priestly," said Dr. Crothers, "discovered oxygen, a thing not usually discovered in church, and it was he that first put oxygen into religion."

American Beginnings.
The speaker then told of the arrival of Priestly in this country, at the suggestion of Thomas Jefferson and of the gradual growth of the Unitarian movement in Virginia and then in New England. "What the Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights meant to the political freedom of men," said Dr. Crothers, "Unitarianism means to-day to their religious freedom. It is the true faith of freedom—liberty to worship God in your own way, free from the incubus of other men's thoughts, free from the dogmas of men who are dead."

Most of the visiting delegates were from New England, and will leave for their homes this morning. In the party were Mrs. Robert Windsor, of Boston, who contributed the funds that made possible the building of the Unitarian Church in this city. The party was entertained yesterday with automobile trips to various points of interest and with a tea at the church, served by the women of the alliance. The local reception committee was composed of the following: W. B. Gay, Dr. I. J. Haynes, D. R. Wilson, F. L. Johnson, A. K. Parker and B. T. Hobart.

Arrests Yesterday.
Agnes Young, colored, was arrested last night on a charge of assaulting Sadie Goodman with an axe. And Sadie Goodman was arrested on a charge of attempting to cut Agnes Young with a razor.

Clarence Brown, colored, was arrested on a charge of stealing a suit of clothes from Fred Morris. He is suspected also of stealing clothes from other people.

Robbery Reported.
W. J. Lathan, of 109 West Clay Street, reported to the police last night that he had been held up and robbed of a watch. Henry Russell was arrested on suspicion of having committed the robbery.

The mortality was heavier than usual and unusually large among the colored population. Of the deaths, 28 were under five years of age and two were over eighty years.

Among the causes of death assigned are: Tuberculosis, 8; Bright's disease, 6; cancer, 2; diphtheria and typhoid fever, 1 each. The coroner certified seven deaths, ten bodies were shipped away for burial at other places and nine were brought to the city from other points for burial.

The report of the number of births during the month is not complete.

Tuberculosis Among Cattle.
Dairy Inspector James E. Collier and Veterinary T. J. Fisher recently made examination of the cows at the various dairies in Petersburg and vicinity that furnish milk in the city. Five herds were examined, and among them forty-seven cows were found to have tuberculosis in some stage of the disease. Fourteen were found in one dairy and sixteen in another, the balance being found in others. Fourteen of the cows were sent to Richmond several days ago and slaughtered under the supervision of the United States authorities, and sixteen more were sent yesterday.

some time, has been completed and is now ready for use. There are forty-six telephone boxes distributed in convenient parts of the city and placed on telephone poles. The gongs and lights will be operated from the Police Station, where the switchboard is placed. The system cost about $8,000, and will be of great assistance to the police department.

Sudden Death of Citizen.
Joseph Gilliam, a much respected citizen, died last night about 9 o'clock at his home on Franklin Street after a very brief illness. Mr. Gilliam was an employee of W. M. Lewis & Bro., carriage manufacturers, and was stricken yesterday afternoon while at his work. He was sixty-nine years old, and is survived by his wife and six children—Percy Gilliam, of Waverly; Mrs. Paul Cox and Herbert Gilliam, of Upton, Va.; and Hester and Misses Pearl and Ruby Gilliam, of this city.

Death of Young Man.
Willis Callender, a very popular and estimable young man, about twenty-one years old, died this morning shortly after 1 o'clock in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Callender, Apollo Street, after an illness of about five weeks. Mr. Callender suffered from a disease very rarely met with in medical practice and deemed incurable—that of a general hemorrhage or bleeding condition. The case excited a great deal of interest among the medical profession and much sympathy in the community.

Shot Through Window.
Some person unknown fired a shot through the window of the library of the residence of R. P. Barham, on Union Street, early last night. The ball knocked a large hole in the heavy plate glass, scattering the fragments across the floor. Fortunately no one was in the room. It is not believed that the shot was fired in malice, but rather that the act was committed by a mischievous boy with an air rifle. The shot evidently came from the playground of the old High School, which the window faces.

Fine Horse Killed.
J. J. Nelms, while visiting relatives on West High Street last night, left his horse and buggy on the street. The horse became frightened at something and ran into a building, and a Seaboard train at the crossing, and West High Street crossing, breaking the buggy to pieces and so badly injuring himself that he had to be killed. The animal was a blooded mare, for which a recent offer of $500 had been refused.

Sentenced to Jail.
In the Police Court this morning A. Kessler, of Richmond, and Ester Smith, of Chesterfield, were each sentenced to thirty days' imprisonment in jail on the charge of the larceny of a quantity of wine, the property of W. T. Raily, of the Commercial Cafe. Kessler had been employed as barkeeper at the cafe. Both young men noted an appeal Smith putting up cash security for his appearance.

Official Pythian Visit.
Grand Chancellor Saville, of Richmond, of the Virginia Association of Pythians, paid an official visit to No. 10 Lodge, No. 39, last night. He was accompanied by a number of prominent Pythians of Richmond, among them Mayor D. C. Richardson, supreme representative, Justice John W. Starke, Sheriff J. S. Safford, Captain J. L. Crocco, Past Grand Lecturer A. L. Lucas and others. The distinguished visitors were received with proper honors and were extended a warm fraternal welcome by a large gathering of local members of the order. A number of speeches were made, refreshments were served, and the evening was one of great enjoyment.

Congregational Meeting.
A meeting of the congregation of the Second Presbyterian Church has been called for Sunday morning next to consider the resignation of Rev. D. H. Rolston, who has accepted a call to the First Church in Charlotte, N. C. Regarding the resignation of their pastor, but appreciating that he has acted as he believes for the best, the congregation will doubtless accept the resignation and join with Dr. Rolston in asking East Hanover Presbytery to resolve his pastoral relations with the Second Church. Dr. Rolston will not fix a date for his departure until after the presbytery meets and acts.

Going to Jamaica.
Whitworth Wilson, of this city, left for New York to-night, whence in a day or two he will sail for Kingston, Jamaica. He goes there in the interest of the British-American Tobacco Company, and will be absent probably a year. Mr. Wilson has been in Newfoundland for some months in the interest of the same company.

Work of a Crook.
The report is that the Fair Association was swindled out of a considerable sum of money by the work of a shrewd crook, who came here with a printing machine and printed and sold counterfeit tickets to the fair. How much he realized is not known.

News Notes in Brief.
In St. Joseph's Catholic Church this morning, the pastor, Rev. Father O'Farrell celebrated requiem mass for the repose of the soul of the late Bishop Van de Vyver, of the Diocese of Richmond.

Mrs. Gertrude Mann and John A. Perkins, both of Chesterfield county, were quietly married last night in the parsonage of High Street M. E. Church by Rev. W. H. Atwill.

Henry C. Southall, of this city, has been appointed division inspector on the staff of Commander J. G. Edwards, of Portsmouth, commanding the Virginia Division, Sons of Confederate Veterans.

The board of directors has declined to incoarse the proposition of the R. L. Barnes Safe Company to move its plant to Petersburg, contemplating the removal included the cost of $30,000 of the stock of the company.

THIEF IS SEEN ROBBING HOUSE

Chased by White Men and Captured—New Church Dedicated.

Bedford City, Va., October 27.—A bold robbery was committed last night in the home of C. W. Gills, on Bedford Avenue. The family had retired early, when the thief entered the front hall, turned on the electric lights and proceeded to help himself to all portable articles, consisting of a handsome new coat of a woman's suit, a girl's sweater and hat, caps, as well as sewing implements, needles, thread and scissors, which had been left in the hall. He also took a glass card receiver, which he, however, let fall and break as he left the house by the front entrance.

John S. Burks, who had been occupied at the Norfolk and Western depot, in passing the house saw the lights through the glass door, and gave the alarm. The negro ran out of the house and down the avenue, with Mr. Burks and others in pursuit, who overtook and captured him and delivered him to the proper authorities. The negro,
